Message From AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Gardner - Timberlake Unit No. 75

Hamburg, Arkansas

We pay tribute to all Servicemen and Women who fought so bravely in this great struggle and join with them in a united effort to preserve the Peace throughout the world in the years to come.

To those who made the supreme sacrifice, we, the living, owe the responsibility of taking up the torch of Freedom and going forward with the determination that we shall for always safeguard that which they bought at so great a cost, to those who have suffered wounds and disabilities we hold the responsibility of helping bind up those wounds and seeing that the future is as bright for them as it is possible to be.

MAUDE M. PUGH, President American Legion Auxiliary Gardner-Timberlake Post No. 75

ASHLEY COUNTY

BY JUDGE Y. W. ETHERIDGE

Ashley county was organized November 30, 1948, the fifty-third county of the state, and was named in honor of Senator Chester Ashley. Its original seat of justice was at Fountain Hill at the home of Isaac Denson. In October, 1849, George N. Denton, John W. Doyle and Thomas C. Denson were appointed as commissioners by the County Court, presided over by W. E. Willis to lay out the new county site on land donated to the county by the Government of the United States for that purpose. There are a number of deeds now of record from the commissioners to individuals in the town, Hamburg, which was then laid off as the county seat, and the donation deed is of record in the county.

The county is bounded on the north by Drew county, by Chicot county on the east, by Morehouse parish, Louisiana, on the south, and on the west by the Ouachita and Saline rivers. We never knew what counties were on the other side until recent years when the magnificent architectural structure which now spans the Ouachita near the mouth of the Saline at Saline Landing was completed. We then found Union and Bradley counties over on "yander side."

The lands of Ashley county are hill and swamp. About a third of the eastern portion is swamp and the balance is hill land of various types. The hill land grows timber as rapidly as any in the South and is covered over with pine. This pine, if it had been protected in the past as it is now being protected by Crossett Lumber Company, the State and Nation would be worth as much or more than all the gold ever discovered in California. The swamp land raises anything. It is alleuvial and rich. If it had been protected in the past and kept in a high state of cultivation as it is now being kept by its progressive owners, by the State and Nation, it would vie with the lands of the Nile valley, which are renewed in fertility each year by the overflow of the river and the rich silt thus deposited.

All in all, we have a wonderful county, with wonderful resources, with two wonderful races of people presiding over it. We need nothing. We have it all. The future is in our hands and in our hearts. When this cruel and inhuman war is over we propose to grasp the helm and steer our course toward progress and greatness as we have been taught to do by those who preceded us.

During the war it was the responsibility of the Crossett Companies to produce goods for war to back up the men of this community and all other communities of the country who were fighting to protect the lives and liberties of all of us.

With the end of the war it becomes a responsibility of these companies to provide jobs and opportunities for these men who return. It is our further responsibility to produce goods which will go toward the rehabilitation of the world, and in helping to rebuild the countries of the world, we will help to win the peace for which our men fought so bravely.

We welcome the opportunity to say this word in tribute to the men and women who gave their talents and efforts, and in many cases their lives, in service of their country to keep alive the American way in all that it stands for.

We commend the efforts of the organization sponsoring the compilation of this record of service men in that the booklet will stand as a lasting memorial to those men and women who gave so much for us all.
